LISTERS' CORNER

C. Eric Tull

In this final double issue I have first tabulated local lists; cutoffs are the same as those used in Volume 2, Number 4, Winter 1992. New lists, and lists that have increased since last year, are marked with an asterisk. 292 local lists are reported from 104 local areas, of which 29 are in Ontario, 18 in British Columbia, 13 in Manitoba and 12 in Nova Scotia. The lists are reported by 118 birders, of whom 54 are from Ontario, 27 from British Columbia, 12 from Quebec, and less than 10 from any other province.

The most prolific local listers are Blake Maybank (14), Wayne Neily (12), Jo Ann MacKenzie (9), David Stirling (8), Wayne Weber (8), Alan Wormington (8), Gerry Bennett (7), and Larry Neily (7). The top lists are Don Perks (Toronto 344) and Brian Kautesk (Vancouver 339). Sixteen other Ontario lists exceed 300, including three by Alan Wormington and two by Allen Woodliffe, as do three other B.C. lists. The top local lists for other provinces are Mabel McIntosh (Montreal 320), Bev Sarty (Halifax/Dartmouth 298), Andrew Slater (Calgary 288), and Stan Shaddick (283).

In this last issue of Canadian Birding, Blake is allowing me sufficient space to print Canada, ATPAT and all provincial life lists one last time. I have dropped out those who have not reported since 1990. A very special tip of the binoculars to Alan Wormington, who becomes the first person to reach a provincial list of 400 -- Alan, of course, achieved this in Ontario. Congratulations! Can a BC 400 list be far behind?

As this is the last issue of Canadian Birding, and we're all a little crazy with despair, I am going to seize the opportunity of introducing another of my bizarre listing notions. I feel that this is the perfect time to do so, as it is too late for anyone to cancel their membership in protest at what I have written. What I am proposing is a Canadian Equalization Tally for Unconstrained Listing Lunatics, which I will modestly refer to by its acronym, CETULL.

The CETULL is the number of points awarded out of a possible 1200, with the points coming from twelve different listing categories of a maximum 100 points each. In awarding the points, I have tried to achieve a balance between national, provincial, and local lists, as well as a balance between lifetime lists, best ever time-related lists, and the most current time-related lists. Points are awarded for the following categories:

Life lists:

1. Canada
2. best provincial life list
3. best local life list
4. ATPAT

Best-ever lists:

5. Canada year list
6. best provincial year list
7. best local year list
8. best day list

Last year's lists:

9. Canada year list
10. best provincial year list
11. best local year list
12. best day list

The inclusion of last year's lists should reward current birders. The tally will fluctuate depending on the birder's current activity, and it will not be possible to get a high CETULL and then rest easy.

For each category there is a possible 100 points (or slightly more). The points are calculated by taking your list as a percentage of the Canada or provincial total lists and then comparing the result with the best percentage list of that type as reported by a birder. (For example, my Canadian list of 464 is 77% of the Canadian total of 604. The best Canadian list, that of Norm Chesterfield, is 84% of the Canadian list. The points I receive are 77 divided by 84 and multiplied by 100, or 92.) Unfortunately, this method unfairly takes local lists as percentages of provincial totals, but I see no alternative as I have no recognized list totals for most of the local lists that are reported to me.

The best Canadian percentages that are listed are:

- best Canada life list 84% (Norm Chesterfield)
- best provincial life list 93% (SK, Bob Kreba)
- best local life list 79% (Montreal, Mabel McIntosh)
- best ATPAT life list 63% (yours truly)
- best Canada year list 72% (Peter Hamel)
- best provincial year list 80% (MB, Robert Parsons)
- best local year list 67% (extrapolation based on difference between other life and year lists)
- best day list 55% (MB, R. Koes, Gordon Grief)

To illustrate I've calculated my current CETULL.

1. Canada life list -- $77\% \times (100/84) = 92$
2. best provincial life list -- $83\% \times (100/93) = 89$
3. best local life list -- $57\% \times (100/79) = 72$
4. ATPAT life list -- $63\% \times (100/63) = 100$
5. best Canada year list -- $56\% \times (100/72) = 77$
6. best provincial year list -- $63\% \times (100/80) = 79$
7. best local year list -- $48\% \times (100/67) = 72$
8. best day list -- $44\% \times (100/55) = 79$
9. 1992 Canada year list -- $44\% \times (100/72) = 62$
10. 1992 best prov. year list -- $63\% \times (100/80) = 79$
11. 1992 best local year list -- $48\% \times (100/67) = 72$
12. 1992 best day list -- $26\% \times (100/55) = 47$

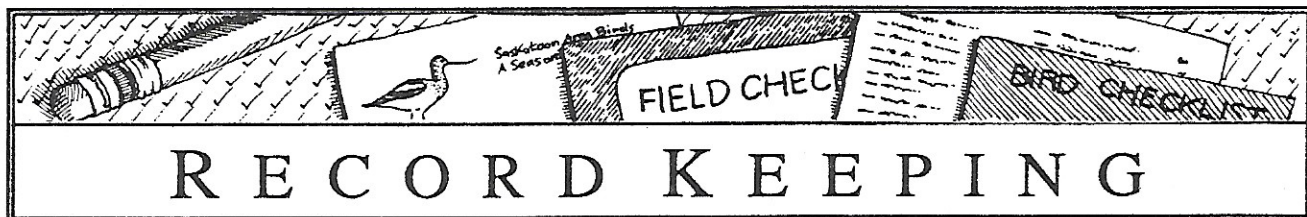

CETULL = 920

What does it all mean? Is 920 high, low or average? I don't know, and probably never will, unless there are birders who are equally crazy and willing to calculate their CETULL's and send them to me for comparison. Any takers?

With the departure of Canadian Birding, and with Birder's Journal uninterested in a listing feature, I am considering inaugurating a once-annual Canada bird-listing newsletter. Please let me know if you would be interested in a continued publication of lists on this once-a-year basis. Send me your name and address in the enclosed addressed letter, and I will contact you this autumn with information on how the listing newsletter is proceeding, and how to subscribe.
